

potential property buyer to Taman Thant. This is rooted in Datum Jelatek's strategic location that is less than 5km from the city of Kuala Lumpur. And there is an abundance of public transport in the area, with LRT stations that lead to KLCC.
Datum Jelatek is also connected to major highways like MRR2, AKLEH and the DUKE highway, increasing accessibility to Selangor and Kuala Lumpur city centres. DatumCorp has also created an exquisite addition to Kuala Lumpur's skyline with Malaysia's first Sky Ring that will connect all four of Datum Jelatek's towering towers together, allowing residents a 360-degree panoramic view of the city.

Abd Zaid Zaimuri, who is with the Petronas offices in Terengganu, bought his first property in Kuala Lumpur and tells the story of how his friends had discouraged him from buying real estate in the area.
He proudly remarks, "To me, it is best when the market has been abandoned and the prices become more attractive. This is an added bonus to the extraordinary facilities in Datum Jelatek, and I have absolutely no regrets."

“ We are excited about our property purchase in Datum Jelatek, especially with its strategic location and accessibility. ”

Ainal Maryam of Homefield Real Estate saw the potential of this development. She stated that the current upgrading of Jalan Jelatek and Jalan Ampang, and the timeliness of the DUKE 3 and Datum Jelatek being completed concurrently, will make commuting easier and faster since it will prevent traffic bottlenecks. She also noted that this would make Datum Jelatek a prominent landmark in the area, a new meeting point or 'the place to be.' In addition, the LRT station nearby the area can provide rides to the KLCC LRT station in just 8 minutes. Ainal believes that the Sky Ring would be a major attraction as it is the first of its kind in Malaysia and the design gives out an aura of luxury. What she is most excited about is firework shows viewed from the Sky Ring which surely would be a spectacular sight.

The husband-wife duo Nik Abdullah Nik Idris with a high-flying career as a pilot, and his wife Suhaila Ariffin, a partner with Hannan Aesthetic Medispa, have also expressed their excitement with their property purchase in Datum Jelatek. With both of them having two very different yet equally demanding careers, the strategic location and accessibility of Datum Jelatek was a key selling point. Travelling to and from their home to their jobs in Kuala Lumpur and Selangor is less of a hassle, while spending quality time together, looking over the gorgeous KL skyline, relieves the tension of a busy work day.

DatumCorp's landmark achievements in the property field, with its long list of accolades for Datum Jelatek, has cemented itself as a leader among the nation's biggest property players. Now that Datum Jelatek has caught the eye of the public, its next development can only keep soaring higher. In the meantime, the Malaysian public will watch and wait in anticipation for their next grand unveiling. IBR
