

Homing In On a Place of Wonder

Located in the Klang Valley, Datum Jelatek is the product of creative geniuses with an eye for detail who have proven architectural resilience in this newly launched project

In the heart of a bustling city with metropolitan vibes, lies the latest in the Datum Series. A development by DatumCorp International Sdn Bhd, with interior design by Blu Water Studio, Datum Jelatek is proving itself to be the pinnacle of world-class luxury, boasting stunning views of the Kuala Lumpur skyline with exciting patterns, stunning contrasts and a kaleidoscopic view. Luxury living and exclusivity is highlighted through natural accents and wide spaces which exude warmth plus positive energy that enlivens the atmosphere of elegant beauty.

Designed to evoke joy and excitement for the residents, by being an understated respite within the city, Datum Jelatek offers four design layout options: type S, A, B and C. Built to suit the different needs, all units have the same concept, inspiration and goal, plus offer only the best in furnishing and material. The smaller S suites are studio units for smaller families, while the C units cater for the more larger, matured families.

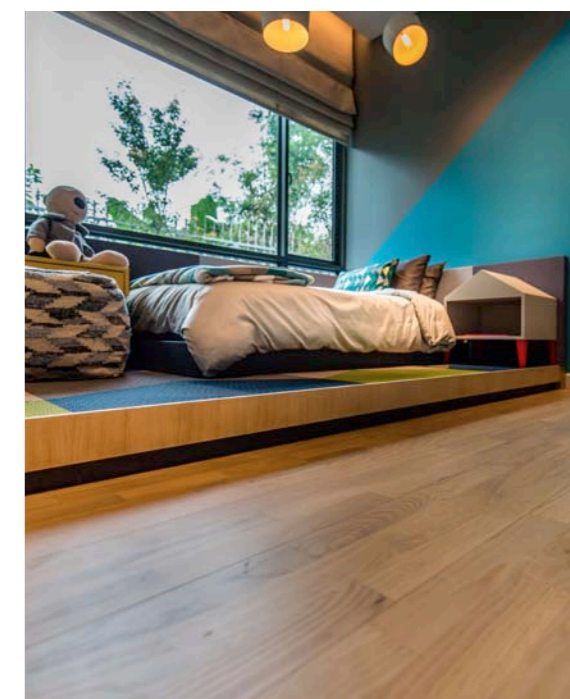

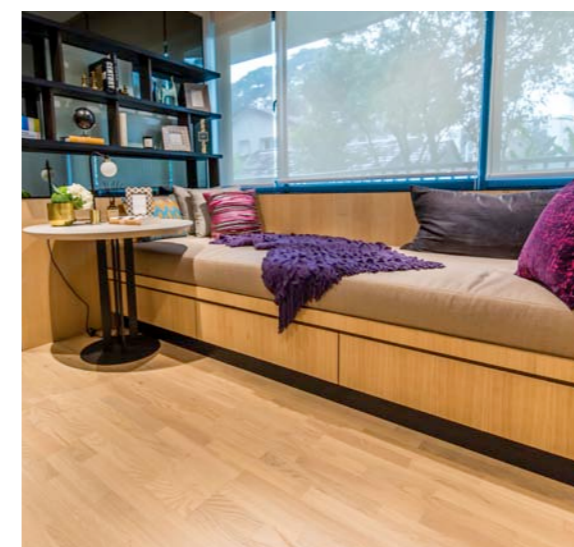

Situated at the midway point of the property is one of its most unique aspects—the Sky Ring, which joins the towers in a circular platform, creating an inviting space in which the residents and guests can enjoy views of the captivating city skyline.

Being able to wake up feeling your best is what matters the most, especially when your bedroom exudes a sense of warmth from the ground. Distinguished from the rest, the bedrooms in Datum Jelatek have been designed with the ultimate selection of Ekowood engineered hardwood floors, thus creating an extraordinary feel in one's private sanctuary. Made of real and natural wood, every board of Ekowood flooring is unique and special, with many different patterns of whorls and knots that are exclusive to natural wood. Plus, it is crafted with superior technology and proper resistance to the tropical climate as well as fluctuations in natural temperature, with Ekowood flooring surpassing industry standards for fire, slip and sound—not to mention being easy to clean.

By upholding their sustainability platform and exceeding standards for home safety, Datum Jelatek ensures a better living environment, in pristine comfort and lively tones that is sure to enrapture residents. For more details, visit www.datumjelatek.com.my.
